

Wherry Albion's Public Open Days

The Norfolk Wherry Albion - the 112 years old black sailed trader and an icon of the Broads – is Open to the Public - FREE. She is about 60 foot long with a 50 foot mast and 1500 sq ft of sail. Come and discover how this historic, cargo-carrying, working craft was sailed on our narrow rivers by a man and a boy. Find out what a quant is, why the 'ceiling' is on the floor, where a bonnet fits. Meet her modern crew. Find out how she has adapted to a new lease of life carrying charter parties instead of cargo. There are pubs, cafes, parking and toilets available nearby. All times 10 till 4
